ETHICALLY SOUND

Our coffee growers must enter an ethical agreement to maintain a high standard of quality and to provide employees with wages that fairly reflect the superior work required for a superior product.

They must train pickers and sorters, encouraging, supervising and compensating them so that they choose only the highest quality coffee beans.

Our coffee growers are also committed to protecting and preserving the environment where the coffee is grown, providing shade-grown coffee in a forest setting, while preserving the health of the forests. Where possible, natural and organic insecticides, pesticides and fertilizers are used.

GREAT COFFEE

...grown in the mountains of Honduras, by people who care about coffee and the environment.

Buying this coffee not only supports the growers, but 100% of the profit goes to our partner community, allowing them to continue to develop into a self-sustaining community
